

HIDDEN TREASURE SHOWN TO WOMAN IN VIVID DREAM

Miss Alvord Gets Directions in Vision; Finds $4,000 in Gold.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Miss Lucy Alvord, of Taylortown, N. J., told her brother Claude on Sunday morning that her grandfather, who died in 1837, came to her in a dream the night before, appearing so natural that, although she had never seen a picture of him, she recognized him from her mother's description. He was middle aged and wore a beard. In the dream he seemed to shake Miss Alvord and arouse her. She stared at him and was about to speak, but he indicated silence and motioned her to follow him.

She followed him into the kitchen of the house, a wing that was built long before the Revolution. The house itself has been occupied by the Alvord family for five generations.

Poured Gold on the Table.

Stepping to the north side of the great room the man opened the iron door of the brick oven alongside the fireplace. He stepped inside the big oven and reappeared with a stone jar which he set on the table in the middle of the room. He then seemed oblivious to the presence of Miss Alvord, and to her, in the dream, his conduct seemed perfectly natural. He dug his hands into the crock and brought them out filled with gold pieces. He emptied the crock on the table and began to stack and count the money. He made separate stacks of English and American coins and of the different denominations. He made figures on a slip of paper which he totaled and put in his pocket.

Then the visitor put the money back into the crock and crawled in the oven. Miss Alvord peered in and saw him wall up the crock with bricks and mortar which were waiting. The oven is six feet deep and the new wall was scarcely noticeable in the great depth. When all had been secured the man closed and locked the iron door. Then Miss Alvord woke up.

When she met her brother at breakfast she told him the story. The vividness of her dream had frightened her. But she insisted that her brother attack the wall of the oven. She was confident that he would find the stone crock and the treasure. He laughed at her, but to humor her went at the wall with a crowbar. The first light blow went through the wall. A few blows demolished it, and there lay a crock such as the woman had seen in her dream.

$4,000 in Gold in the Crock.

The excitement of the sister and brother knew no bounds. They dragged out the crock and opened it, and before their eyes lay gold. They emptied it on the kitchen table—a table made generations ago out of a slab of pine. They counted the money.

In the heap of gold was 4,000 and some odd dollars. The stacks weighed eighteen pounds on a grocer's scales. The hoard belonged to Silas Alvord, the grandfather, in all probability. He was the last of the family to work the iron forge on the place. He made anchors, anchor chains and other iron implements. When he died, in 1837, it was thought he had a fortune. Apparently, however, he left nothing but the farm, valuable in itself. Then his relatives thought he had lost his money in wildcat banks.

Miss Alvord's story of the strange dream and of the finding of the hoard of gold was told about the countryside, and all day yesterday neighbors heard her repeat it and looked into the oven and saw where the bricks had been removed.

THE PROOF.

Stodious—Aunt, are you superstitious? Aunt—Most certainly not. Stodious—Then lend me thirteen taler!—Transatlantic Tales.

William Walker Foulkrod is a great man, and a member of Congress from Philadelphia.

He is an imposing figure in the commercial world, and a grand piece of work in art and historical circles.

All these things are fully explained in his biography, which is printed in the Congressional Directory exactly as he wrote it. According to this modest and bashful literary output, the world owes William Walker Foulkrod great gratitude, and to William Walker Foulkrod his community should sing hymns of praise three times a day.

Mr. Foulkrod is the very flower of simplicity and the essence of bluntness. Perish the thought that William Walker Foulkrod should praise himself! Far be it from him to reach out into the ambitious clutch to his person qualities that are not his! He merely states the facts, and for a statement of facts, no man should incur the hatred of the populace.

Timidity of Woman.

One thing only does William Walker Foulkrod omit. He does not state his age. With the timidity of a woman, he failed to put in the epic on Foulkrod the year which the world received him into its midst.

On birth, however, the biography says much that is impressive. After conquering the wild bashfulness that evidently attacked him before he gave to the Public Printer the facts about himself, he remarked on his aristocracy of descent. He can trace his descent back to the ark that grounded on Mt. Ararat. He was born "in Frankford, Philadelphia, Pa., where the Foulkrod family has resided seven generations."

But enough of these things for which William Walker Foulkrod was not responsible! Let him tell his own story in his own way. Gentle as a lily, retiring as the violet that blooms in woodland wilds where none may see it, he has whispered forth in the Congressional Directory the following little melody:

"Received his education in the public and private schools of Philadelphia; for some years past has been president of one of the industrial plants of that section; he is also president of the Frankford Fire Insurance Company; is president of the Frankford Country Club, president of the Frankford Historical Society, director in the Frankford library, and connected with several other local organizations."

Merely the Prelude.

But that is not all. It is as it were, but the mere, dreamy prelude to the swelling song of what William Walker Foulkrod has done. It is just a hint, a gentle intimation that the gentleman's social connections are irreproachable and much to be advertised and boasted about.

He continues:

"He is one of the trustees of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, the only institution of its kind in this country. Its work has been recognized as of importance to the entire country and has received support both by appropriations from the State of Pennsylvania and the United States Government. He is also one of the trustees of the T. W. Evans Museum and Institute Society, which Dr. T. W. Evans, the American dentist residing in Paris, left his fortune to establish in Philadelphia. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Art Club, of Philadelphia, and a member of other organizations."

After thus recording his high connection with the millions that have come out of the treasures of the common masses, William Walker Foulkrod approaches even higher ground. He sets forth in choice English that he has always been interested in the waterways of this country, and conveys the impression that the waterways should, if it were in their power, rise up in a mighty wave twice a day at least and spout forth large and juicy thanks to William Walker Foulkrod. He is now working on a plan for the improvement of the Delaware river. Who knows but that he will make it look like a parlor car or my lady's boudoir?

Under this breathless statue of modesty and simple embarrassment there have come other details of how "he grew up been lived in vain, a career that has fallen like a benediction on the community of Frankford."

How He Grew.

William Walker Foulkrod, scornful of the lack of space that afflicts the Congressional Directory, continues with a detailed statement of how "he grew up with the dry goods and notion house of Mustin & Bennett," and of how later he had an immense dry goods business, "for many years the largest wholesale dry goods house in Philadelphia," known under the firm name of Hood, Foulkrod & Co.

And more. "He was nominated by the Republican party and received the endorsement of four other political parties."

William Walker Foulkrod is a new man in Congress. This is his first session of service. But the House cannot say it has not had opportunity to know him.

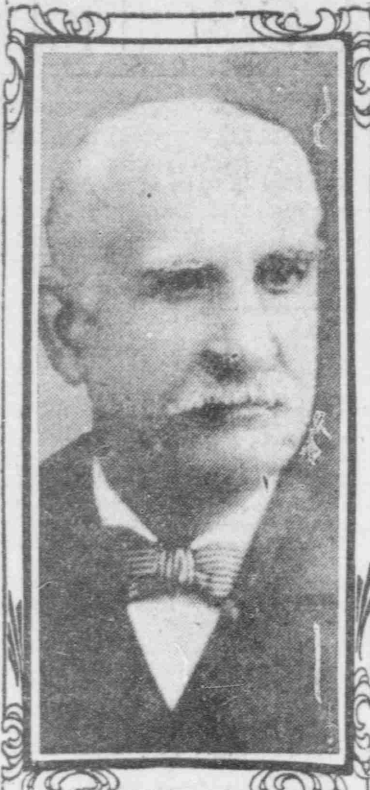

He has subjected his embarrassment and has spread on the scroll of fame his mighty country-club, art-historical career.

INTERESTING FRENCH SOUVENIRS

A most interesting presentation has been made to the town of Paris by a certain Mme. Blavet. It consists of the furniture which was used by the royal family during its imprisonment in the Temple. Among the items are included the bed of the Princess Elizabeth, the quilt which was used by Marie Antoinette, and a box of toys of the little Dauphin. Chairs, tables, and books are also included, and finally the locksmith's instruments with which the unhappy king passed his time while awaiting execution. The entire collection will be lodged in the Musee Carnavalet.

Foulkrod 'Big Man' Yes Siree! It's Told to the Whole World In His Modest, Bashful Style

Philadelphia Representative Flower of Simplicity, But Plain Spoken.

WILLIAM WALKER FOULKROD,
Philadelphia's New Member of the House of Representatives.

William Walker Foulkrod is a great man, and a member of Congress from Philadelphia.

He is an imposing figure in the commercial world, and a grand piece of work in art and historical circles.

All these things are fully explained in his biography, which is printed in the Congressional Directory exactly as he wrote it. According to this modest and bashful literary output, the world owes William Walker Foulkrod great gratitude, and to William Walker Foulkrod his community should sing hymns of praise three times a day.

Mr. Foulkrod is the very flower of simplicity and the essence of bluntness. Perish the thought that William Walker Foulkrod should praise himself! Far be it from him to reach out into the ambitious clutch to his person qualities that are not his! He merely states the facts, and for a statement of facts, no man should incur the hatred of the populace.

Timidity of Woman.

One thing only does William Walker Foulkrod omit. He does not state his age. With the timidity of a woman, he failed to put in the epic on Foulkrod the year which the world received him into its midst.

On birth, however, the biography says much that is impressive. After conquering the wild bashfulness that evidently attacked him before he gave to the Public Printer the facts about himself, he remarked on his aristocracy of descent. He can trace his descent back to the ark that grounded on Mt. Ararat. He was born "in Frankford, Philadelphia, Pa., where the Foulkrod family has resided seven generations."

But enough of these things for which William Walker Foulkrod was not responsible! Let him tell his own story in his own way. Gentle as a lily, retiring as the violet that blooms in woodland wilds where none may see it, he has whispered forth in the Congressional Directory the following little melody:

"Received his education in the public and private schools of Philadelphia; for some years past has been president of one of the industrial plants of that section; he is also president of the Frankford Fire Insurance Company; is president of the Frankford Country Club, president of the Frankford Historical Society, director in the Frankford library, and connected with several other local organizations."

Merely the Prelude.

But that is not all. It is as it were, but the mere, dreamy prelude to the swelling song of what William Walker Foulkrod has done. It is just a hint, a gentle intimation that the gentleman's social connections are irreproachable and much to be advertised and boasted about.

He continues:

"He is one of the trustees of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, the only institution of its kind in this country. Its work has been recognized as of importance to the entire country and has received support both by appropriations from the State of Pennsylvania and the United States Government. He is also one of the trustees of the T. W. Evans Museum and Institute Society, which Dr. T. W. Evans, the American dentist residing in Paris, left his fortune to establish in Philadelphia. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Art Club, of Philadelphia, and a member of other organizations."

After thus recording his high connection with the millions that have come out of the treasures of the common masses, William Walker Foulkrod approaches even higher ground. He sets forth in choice English that he has always been interested in the waterways of this country, and conveys the impression that the waterways should, if it were in their power, rise up in a mighty wave twice a day at least and spout forth large and juicy thanks to William Walker Foulkrod. He is now working on a plan for the improvement of the Delaware river. Who knows but that he will make it look like a parlor car or my lady's boudoir?

Under this breathless statue of modesty and simple embarrassment there have come other details of how "he grew up been lived in vain, a career that has fallen like a benediction on the community of Frankford."

How He Grew.

William Walker Foulkrod, scornful of the lack of space that afflicts the Congressional Directory, continues with a detailed statement of how "he grew up with the dry goods and notion house of Mustin & Bennett," and of how later he had an immense dry goods business, "for many years the largest wholesale dry goods house in Philadelphia," known under the firm name of Hood, Foulkrod & Co.

And more. "He was nominated by the Republican party and received the endorsement of four other political parties."

William Walker Foulkrod is a new man in Congress. This is his first session of service. But the House cannot say it has not had opportunity to know him.

He has subjected his embarrassment and has spread on the scroll of fame his mighty country-club, art-historical career.

INTERESTING FRENCH SOUVENIRS

A most interesting presentation has been made to the town of Paris by a certain Mme. Blavet. It consists of the furniture which was used by the royal family during its imprisonment in the Temple. Among the items are included the bed of the Princess Elizabeth, the quilt which was used by Marie Antoinette, and a box of toys of the little Dauphin. Chairs, tables, and books are also included, and finally the locksmith's instruments with which the unhappy king passed his time while awaiting execution. The entire collection will be lodged in the Musee Carnavalet.

210 prs. Ruffled Muslin.
47 prs. Embroidered Muslin.
65 prs. Colored Striped.
85 prs. Scotch Net.
75 prs. Muslin.
110 prs. Ruffled Net.
75 prs. Scotch Net.
125 prs. Novelty Net.
185 prs. Irish Point.
148 prs. Novelty Net.
75 prs. Arabian Net.
160 prs. Irish Point.
95 prs. Renaissance.
80 prs. Arabian.
30 prs. Cluny.
28 prs. Arabian.
110 prs. Renaissance.
70 prs. Marie Antoinette.
90 prs. Irish Point.
30 prs. Arabian.
60 prs. Renaissance.
48 prs. Marie Antoinette.
30 prs. Irish Point.
38 prs. Arabian.
70 prs. Renaissance.
40 prs. Marie Antoinette.
40 prs. Brussels.
95 odd pairs throughout the stock at exactly one-half price.

The overstock sale of Furniture reduces the highest grade goods 25, 33 1-3, 50, and 60%.

Pay 25% cash and have the goods delivered any time before Sept. 1st.

W. B. Moses & Sons, F St., Cor. 11th.

Parker, Bridget & Co.'s
Line of Men's Suits at $15, $18, and $20
Cannot Be Equaled
Penna. Ave. and Ninth St.

There are a good many house rears in this city. A hundred of these would make good tenants for that house of yours—ten of this hundred are reading the "To Rent" ads every day now.

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR THOS. R. RILEY

Edward P. Flowers & Co., of New York; Benjamin Griffin, of New York, and the Frank Spangler Company, of Ohio, in a petition filed in the District Supreme Court ask that a receiver be appointed for Thomas R. Riley, lumberman, by reason of the fact that he had committed acts of bankruptcy in preferring certain creditors over others in the settlement of their claims. Mr. Riley's debts are listed at $200,000 and assets at $100,000.

Chief Justice Claiborne appointed Lucas P. Loving and Tracey Jeffords as receivers. A meeting of the creditors will be held January 27.

Woman Shows the White Feather When She Gets Husband Sentenced, And Successfully Pleads for Him

"The love of a woman passeth all understanding."

That this old adage is true, as true today as when it was written, was shown in the Juvenile Court yesterday, when Michael Kelley was brought before Judge De Lacy on the charge of failing to support his wife, Mary Kelley.

Mrs. Kelley said that for days she had been without coal, that the house rent was unpaid, and that she and her five children were in want, and had been in want for some time.

"Yur're Honor," said she "thot hoosband of mine has not wurked for murre than three months of the entire year."

On the strength of her testimony, corroborated as it was by her sister's statement, Judge De Lacy, after giving the defendant a severe lecture, sentenced him to go to the workhouse for thirty days.

Hanging his head dejectedly, Kelley walked slowly back to the room in which he was to be confined until the van could remove him to the workhouse.

The silence in the court room, following his exit, was broken with a gentle

FUNERAL OF MAJOR COOPER TO BE HELD IN WASHINGTON

Funeral services for Major Samuel Cooper, who died at his home in Fairfax county, Va., yesterday, will be held tomorrow, and the interment will be private. Major Cooper, whose death was caused by dropsy, was an officer on General Lee's staff during the civil war and served with the Army of Northern Virginia.

sobbing sound. Mrs. Kelley, both hands covering her tear-stained face, confronted the judge.

"Let him off this toime, judge," she pleaded in broken tones; "he'll try to do better. I know he'll try to do better."

"Just like a woman," murmured the judge, as he called Kelley back. "The man promised to do better. He also promised to give up intoxicants. And the little woman, whose sufferings could not kill her innate love for her spouse, followed him meekly from the court room."

Travel, the True Source of All Knowledge.—DISRAELI.

To Travel Is to Possess the World.—E. BURTON HOLMES.

"A Picture Can Sometimes Carry More Information THAN COLUMNS OF TEXT."

A Tour of the World in the BURTON HOLMES TRAVELOGUES

These Ten Handsome Volumes contain over 4,000 photographic illustrations taken by the author during his extensive travels in various parts of the world. They are intended to illustrate the 3,500 pages of descriptive text, and are unusually attractive and entertaining.

These pictures have been specially taken to give you a full and accurate idea of what you would actually see in a tour of the world, were you to make the journey as described by Mr. Holmes in these thirty lectures.

The Holmes narratives or TRAVELOGUES are highly educational and please both the young and old.

It would cost you quite $50,000 to visit the various places described, and many years of your time. You may enjoy these travels at your own fireside at a nominal cost, thus avoiding the annoyance and often dangers that travelers frequently meet with in these out-of-the-way countries. Every member, too, of your family can share with you these pleasures.

We have prepared a handsome booklet fully describing the work, and containing specimen illustrations that may be had for the asking. In it is a sample of the thirty full-pages in colors. Payments may be arranged on the convenient monthly payment plan. Send the coupon TO-DAY.

McClure's Tourists Agency,
"Fireside Travel"
44-60 East 23d Street - New York.

Write to-day for specimen pages, color plate and terms. The Coupon entitles you to these free of charge.

McClure's Tourists Agency
44 East 23d Street
New York City

Dear Sirs: Please present without expense to me specimen pages and full description of the Burton Holmes Travelogues.

Name.....
Address.....

W. B. Moses & Sons

The Moses Furniture and Floor Polishes prove absolutely satisfactory. A special Wax preservative for Weathered Oak pieces.

Fireproof Storage, Moving, Packing.

Stock-Taking Sale of Lace Curtains

1/4 to 1/2 Off Original Prices

1,500 pairs of the choicest Lace Curtains from regular stock. A variety of patterns that anticipates every demand.

210 prs. Ruffled Muslin.	$1.00
47 prs. Embroidered Muslin.	Formerly $1.25 to $1.50.
65 prs. Colored Striped.	$2.00
85 prs. Scotch Net.	Formerly $2.50 to $3.00.
75 prs. Muslin.	$3.00
110 prs. Ruffled Net.	Formerly $3.75 to $4.50.
75 prs. Scotch Net.	$4.00
125 prs. Novelty Net.	Formerly $5.00 to $6.00.
185 prs. Irish Point.	$5.00
148 prs. Novelty Net.	Formerly $6.50 to $7.50.
75 prs. Arabian Net.	$9.00
160 prs. Irish Point.	Formerly $11.00 to $13.50.
95 prs. Renaissance.	$10.00
80 prs. Arabian.	Formerly $13.50 to $15.00.
30 prs. Cluny.	$13.50
28 prs. Arabian.	Formerly $17.50 to $20.00.
110 prs. Renaissance.
70 prs. Marie Antoinette.
90 prs. Irish Point.
30 prs. Arabian.
60 prs. Renaissance.
48 prs. Marie Antoinette.
30 prs. Irish Point.
38 prs. Arabian.
70 prs. Renaissance.
40 prs. Marie Antoinette.
40 prs. Brussels.

95 odd pairs throughout the stock at exactly one-half price.

The overstock sale of Furniture reduces the highest grade goods 25, 33 1-3, 50, and 60%.

Pay 25% cash and have the goods delivered any time before Sept. 1st.

W. B. Moses & Sons, F St., Cor. 11th.

Parker, Bridget & Co.'s
Line of Men's Suits at
$15, $18, and $20
Cannot Be Equaled
Penna. Ave. and Ninth St.

The famous—
SHOOMAKER
PENN. RYE
Ten years old, $1.25.
Order by phone.
The Shoomaker Co.
Established 1873.
127 E. St. N. W. Phone Mails 1132-28.

There are a good many house rears in this city. A hundred of these would make good tenants for that house of yours—ten of this hundred are reading the "To Rent" ads every day now.

TIMES WANT ADS
BRING RESULTS

ESPEY'S SPECIAL $1 RAZOR

A razor that has a reputation built on merit. When you buy one you get a guarantee of satisfaction.

John B. Espey,
Hardware, 1910 Pa. Ave. N. W.

DECAYED TEETH LOOK BAD

ROYAL DENTIST
Have them Crowned. Our prices are very reasonable for high class work.

We only use the best material and guarantee all our work.

Set of Teeth.....$5.00 up
Gold Crowns and Bridgework, $4.00.
GOLD FILLINGS, $1.00 up.

Amalgam Fillings, 50c.

Royal Dentists, - 707 G St. n.w.

Near cor. 7th. Hours—Daily, 9 to 6.

Stop Scrubbing
the Floor

HUNTER'S DUST-KILLING FLOOR OIL keeps the floors always bright and clean. Keeps insects away. Phone or write your order or let our representative call. Oil, 35c a gal.

C. T. Hunter Dust-Killing
Floor Oil Co., Inc.
401 Munsey Building
Main 1689.

Factory, 113 Penna. Ave. N. W.

LEESE

Let me show you the merits of the LEESE INVISIBLE BIFOCAL LENSE.

M. A. LEESE
Manufacturing Optician
614 Ninth St. N. W.

INVISIBLE BIFOCAL

WHEN IN DOUBT
BUY OF

House & Herrmann
Cor. 7th & Eye (N) Streets
N.W.

TIMES WANT ADS
BRING RESULTS

Ask the Women of the Family What Washington Newspaper Interests Them Most

In nine cases out of ten, the answer will be: "Why, THE TIMES."

The women hire the domestic help, they rent the rooms and apartments, they take an interest in the hundred and one bargains to be found on the Want Ad Page.

Your WANT AD IN THE TIMES will appeal directly to the women as well as to the men. You'll always find a TIMES WANT AD BRANCH near.

At Eighth and F Sts. N. E.

McCHESNEY & JOACHIM
will receive them and insure them careful attention.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to worldwide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., U.S.A.
LOUISVILLE, KY. LONDON, ENGLAND. NEW YORK, N.Y.